

The European Energy Exchange (EEX) offers a comprehensive visit, lecture and training program for many aspects of exchange trading. The training courses are held as public training courses at selected conference hotels throughout Europe. However, these courses can also be booked as individual training courses at your own premises (in-house training courses). The EEX trainers are experts with long-standing experience in the field of exchange and energy exchange trading. Furthermore, visits to EEX or presentations by EEX experts at conferences or other events are possible on request.
